PROJECTS

Automatic Street Lightning
Mini Project

- Designed a sensor based system that automatically controls street lights based on ambient light conditions, reducing energy consumption .

Wireless Smartphone Charging Using Solar Cell
Major Project

- We proposed and designed Autocharge,a new approach that enables automatic smartphone charging. The key idea is putting on a desk and automatically charging the smartphone without requiring explicit effort from the user. We designed a camera based system to automatically detect and track smartphones on a desk. As a result, our Autocharge approach significantly reduces user's burden in smartphone charging.
